

Displacing Substandard and Counterfeit Antimalarial Drugs in Uganda

Researchers:

David Yanagizawa-Drott

Jakob Svensson

Martina Björkman Nyqvist

Sector(s): Health

J-PAL office: J-PAL Africa

Location: Bushenji, Mbale, Mbarara, and Mpigi districts, Uganda

Sample: 99 rural villages in four districts

Target group: Rural population

Outcome of interest: Malaria Health outcomes

Intervention type: Community health workers

Partner organization(s): BRAC, Children's Investment Fund Foundation (CIFF), Harvard University Center for Population and Development Studies, Harvard University William F. Milton Fund, Living Goods, Swedish International Development Agency (SIDA), Swedish Research Council

Nyqvist, Martina Björkman, Jakob Svensson, and David Yanagizawa-Drott. "Can Good Products Drive Out Bad? Evidence from Local Markets for Antimalarial Medicine in Uganda" Working Paper, February 2016.