Browse news articles about J-PAL and our affiliated professors, and read our press releases and monthly global and research newsletters. For media inquiries, please email us.

India air pollution: Will Gujarat's 'cap and trade' programme work?

Friday, July 12, 2019 - BBC News

Article discusses J-PAL affiliate Michael Greenstone's evaluation of Gujarat's environmental program.

Among India's working poor, sobriety may boost savings

Friday, June 21, 2019 - Phys.org
Trying to stay sober does not change the earnings of some workers—but it does increase the amount of money they save, according to an J-PAL affiliate's field experiment about low-income workers in...

How Co-Impact Collaborates for Change

Thursday, June 20, 2019 - Penta

Article describes the collaboration between J-PAL, Co-Impact, and Pratham and their efforts for expanding Teaching at the Right Level in Africa.

How an Indianapolis-area church erased $2 million in medical debt for Hoosier families

Monday, June 17, 2019 - IndyStar

Article discusses the context around J-PAL NA's funded project, which measures the impact of medical debt forgiveness on financial outcomes in the United States.

Can banks play a role in improving resilience to climate change?

Monday, June 17, 2019 - International Banker
J-PAL affiliate Dean Karlan discusses the role of financial-service providers (FSPs) in improving resilience to climate change.

Economist Pascaline Dupas named director of the Stanford King Center on Global Development

Friday, June 7, 2019 - Stanford News

J-PAL affiliate Pascaline Dupas has been named director of the Stanford King Center on Global Development.

June 2019 Newsletter

Thursday, June 6, 2019 - J-PAL

In our June 2019 newsletter, J-PAL affiliates' research on gender attitudes is featured in a new briefcase, J-PAL affiliate Paul Niehaus discusses unconditional cash transfers, and more.

Gujarat unveils India’s first emissions trading scheme to curb air pollution

Thursday, June 6, 2019 - Live Mint

J-PAL affiliates are conducting an evaluation of the Gujarat's government emissions trading program.