

U.S. Health Care Delivery Initiative

About - Innovation Competition - RFP - Projects

J-PAL North America's U.S. Health Care Delivery Initiative (HCDI) supports randomized evaluations of strategies that aim to make health care delivery in the United States more efficient, effective, and equitable.

Healthcare organizations are invited to submit letters of interest through our Innovation Competition. Affiliated researchers can submit proposals for funding to conduct a randomized evaluation during our RFP cycles.

This research initiative was launched with support from Arnold Ventures and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.
