J-PAL North America’s Economics Transformation Project has compiled various resources for high school students who wish to continue learning about economics.

ECONOMIC THEORY AND THINKING

Crash Course: Get down to basics with some foundational economics concepts shown through brief videos.

Marginal Revolution University: They’re on a mission to help you discover your inner economist, one bite-sized video at a time. As a project of a non-profit, these videos are freely available for non-commercial use.

Mastering Econometrics with Joshua Angrist: MIT professor, Joshua Angrist (2021 Nobel Prize winner), helps to untangle cause and effect in a complex world and explains the “Furious Five” key econometrics concepts through a series of videos.

Cartoon Introduction to Economics: The award-winning illustrator Grady Klein has paired up with the world’s only stand-up economist, Yoram Bauman, PhD for a digestible and humorous take on economic concepts.

TOPICS IN APPLIED ECONOMICS

Planet Money: Imagine you could call up a friend and say, “Let’s meet up and you can tell me what’s going on with the economy.” Now imagine that’s actually a fun evening, when you listen to this podcast!

TED Ed: Take a look at these short videos about economics, with topics as diverse as coffee, gold, and taxes.

Economics Explained: Learn about current events and their economic implications by checking out these videos.

Good Economics for Hard Times and Poor Economics: Read these books by J-PAL’s founders Esther Duflo and Abhijit Banerjee.

OTHER WAYS TO CONTINUE LEARNING

Attend future workshops through J-PAL North America’s Economics Transformation Project (ETP). To learn more, join the ETP email list today!

Take AP Economics and Math courses at your school.

Considering a future career in Economics? Check out PREDOC, Discover Economics, and (en Español) EconThaki for more info.

ABOUT

The Economics Transformation Project (ETP) is a student-centered, partnership-driven pathways program that aims to create a more diverse, equitable, and inclusive field of economics.